IGNOU & cover page assignment cover page - Before writing and preparing tasks, candidates who belong to any IGNOU academic programme must carefully read each point of the tasks given in the section. For candidates it is necessary to follow every point so that your tasks will be approved without any question and you will get a reward for hard work in the IGNOU class card. Each student shall have an enquiry as to what to write on the cover page for the IGNOU assignment or cover page to be submitted to the relevant IGNOU study centre. It is mandatory to make the cover page of each task so that the assessor can easily understand and know the details of the award submitted. On the first page, too, it facilitates the evaluators' evaluation process more quickly. Candidates must submit their tasks only to the coordinator of their study centre. You can also read: IGNOU Assignment Front Page & Cover Page At the time of writing your tasks or after completing your tasks candidates are confused to write something on the first page of their IGNOU Assignment, so here's a solution to your search. Step by step instructions for compiling IGNOU assignment candidates are required to carefully read each item to prevent you from making mistakes while writing the IGNOU assignment. We created the instructions wisely so that you can easily read and understand it. Point-1: Use only foolscap or A4-sized paper to write tasks. Do not use thin papers. Point-2: After completing one response, leave at least one or a few lines so that the evaluator writes a useful comment on the blank areas. Point-3: We recommend using government paper instead of empty paper to write your paper, as it is also advised by IGNOU officials. Point 4: Candidates may use a black or blue pen to write their assignments for any TEE. Point 5: Candidates may not use a red pen or pen of a different colour. Point 6: handwriting also benefits from the best tagging in your assignment work. Point-7: Candidates must write tasks by hand. Point-8: Do not print or enter assignments using a computer that is not allowed. Point-9: They cannot copy their response from any units/blocks given by the university. If you copied any answer, you will get zero characters for this copied question. Point-10: Candidates must write a solution for tasks with their own help, if you copied any assignment from other students, then the center will reject your task. Point-11: Prepare or write each course task separately. Don't write down every assignment in one set. Point-12: Write each question before replying so that you don't have to attach a question paper while you send the task. Point-13: After completing the assignment writing part, use the paper file and edit all your tasks in the right way. (Note: The university will under no circumstances accept a plastic file). Point-14: The candidate must be sent complete tasks to the coordinator of the assigned study centre. You cannot send to any other IGNOU center, such as the Regional Center, Evaluation Department, and Registration in Evaluation. Point-15: It is true that candidates must submit their assignment in person, so that you cannot send it via email, mail or courier. Note – Due to locking in India, the University has started accepting IGNOU Assignment via email or online Point-16: Remember that you receive a certificate to submit a task. Point-17: After submitting the tasks, they send a certificate to the study centre. Point-18: If you have applied for a change to the study center, then you must send your assignments to the original center until you get any confirmation from the university's study center change. If you have received a notice from the university to successfully change the center, then you can submit to the new center. That's it. We hope that the points above will help those students who are confused or do not even know what to write on page 1 and what instructions to follow for the successful submission of tasks to the IGNOU. We believe you got a solution from here after reading this article. We ask all our candidates to read and refer to each of the above points and send your appropriate solution to the IGNOU Assignment so that it is easily accepted and approved by the university and you can get permission to appear on the tee Exam. Without writing tasks and submitting to candidates, no examination by the IGNOU will be allowed to take part in any examination. Students are also not able to complete the IGNOU examination form at any meeting unless they have submitted the required tasks to university before the last date of submission.
